

FMG INTERNATIONAL ENTRY TERMS & CONDITIONS

Competitors must carefully review, acknowledge, and agree to the following Entry Terms and Conditions:

Acknowledgment

By participating in this athletic event, you recognise the inherent risks of injury, illness, or, in rare instances, death ("harm"). This harm may result from various factors, including your actions, actions of other Competitors, volunteers, spectators, third parties, and/or external events beyond FMG International's control.

Once registration closes (1 week before the event), registration fees are non-refundable. Your continued participation in and/or application to join this event signifies your acknowledgment and acceptance of these Entry Terms and Conditions.

Disclosure of Physical Condition

You commit to providing all relevant personal health and fitness information before and during your participation in the competition. You warrant that you will not engage in the competition with serious injuries, infections, contagious illnesses, or any physical condition that poses a risk to your safety or that of others. If your physical condition changes, you agree to promptly inform FMG International.

Code of Conduct for Competitors

Competitors are urged to adhere to the following Code of Conduct. By choosing to participate, you acknowledge and accept that the Code of Conduct applies to you, and violations may result in a ban from future FMG International events, at the discretion of FMG International and/or associated members and organisations.

Code of Conduct:

- Adherence to all rules, guidelines, and codes of conduct provided by FMG International.
- No arguments with officials, judges, staff, fellow Competitors, or audience members.
- Prohibition of verbal abuse, sledging, or deliberate distractions or provocations.
- Sportsmanship, including applause for all Competitors.
- Fair treatment of others without bullying or taking unfair advantage.
- Displaying modesty in victory and graciousness in defeat.
- Participation for personal enjoyment and benefit.
- Abstinence from arriving intoxicated, consuming alcohol, or using illegal substances at competitions.
- Respect for the rights, dignity, and worth of all Competitors, regardless of gender, ability, cultural background, or religion.

Waiver and Release

You release FMG International and its successors and associates from any claims, liabilities, and demands arising from your participation in the competition, including bodily or mental injury, illness, disability, death, property damage, or theft.

Medical Treatment

You release FMG International and its successors and associates from any claims related to first aid or medical services provided during the competition, consenting to necessary medical attention.

Assumption of the Risk

You expressly assume the risk of injury or harm and release FMG International and its successors and associates from liability for injuries, illnesses, death, and property damage or loss during the competition.

Official Tanning Services

All competitors are required to use the FMG official tanning service as a condition of entering the show.

Category Changes

Please choose your category carefully. Categories cannot be changed after registration has closed. Height and age categories may be merged if there are insufficient numbers.

Use of the Release

This Release will be used by FMG International, its successors, associates, and relevant sponsors, governing your actions and responsibilities at the event.

Photography & Videography

You acknowledge and consent to being photographed or videoed for legitimate purposes by FMG International, its successors, associates, and relevant sponsors, with images potentially published on various media platforms, including social media and promotional material. All professional media at the event is under FMG International's control, and photography and filming without a valid Media Pass are prohibited.

Email consent

By registering for a FMG Australia show, you agree to FMG supplying your email address and mobile number to our Gold and Naming Right sponsors. You can unsubscribe to any and all emails at any time.
